

Letter from Santa Claus

North Pole 2025

Dear Kate,

You're now eight years old, residing in the beautiful city of Paris, France. I've learned about your love for playing tennis, and how it fills your days with joy and excitement. It's wonderful to witness such passion in a young heart like yours.

I've also observed your helpfulness at home. It's a significant achievement for someone your age, and it makes me incredibly proud. Remember, every act of kindness, no matter how small, makes the world a brighter place.

I'm aware you're anticipating a Lego set this Christmas. Well, I won't disclose too much, but let's just say my elves have been extremely busy. Keep your eyes peeled on Christmas morning, and you might discover a surprise under the tree.

*Remain cheerful and continue spreading the joy, Kate.
Merry Christmas!*

Santa Claus
